Abstract:

A collection of the semi-monthly newspaper The Hawai'i Herald published in Honolulu, Hawai'i for the Japanese-American community for the dates June 1, 2012 – May 5, 2017.

Biographical / Historical Notes:

The Hawai'i Herald is published in Honolulu, Hawai'i by Hocht Ltd. for the Japanese-American community. It was originally created from the The Hawai'i Hocht in 1942 when that newspaper was written in Japanese. In order to provide for the non-Japanese speaking members of the local community, the Herald was published in English. The newspaper focuses on business and social issues relevant to the Japanese American community in Hawai'i.

Scope and Content:

A collection of the semi-monthly newspaper The Hawai'i Herald published in Honolulu, Hawai'i for the Japanese-American community for the dates June 1, 2012 – May 5, 2017. The collection contains almost a complete run of issues from June 1, 2012 except for the noted extant copies. It does not contain any of the earlier issues prior to 2012.

Arrangement:

This collection is arranged chronologically.

Condition and Preservation:

The collection is in fair condition although the newspapers were originally folded in half and has retained considerable creasing.
